Why Haven't You a

PIANOLA?

Do you think it is a toy!

Harvard, Vassar, Columbia, and over 80 other leading educational institutions are using it to teach music.

Do you think you might tire of it?

There are over 20,000 different selections in the Pianola Catalog. Your Pianola becomes new again with each new piece you play.

Do you fear you could not play it well?

The Metrostyle and the Themodist, which, in all Pianolas, were invented to enable those who do not know music to play as artistically as those who do.

Do you think it is mechanical?

Practically every living musician of note has indorsed it as being artistic. You may have heard one of the other Piano-players (erroneously called Pianolas), which do play mechanically, unless the player is thoroughly musical.

Finally, do you think you cannot afford one?.

You can buy new Pianolas on the very easy terms of a small cash payment and a few dollars monthly.

BARBARA BOYD.

MORNING CHIT-CHAT.

THAT is this Ballinger-Pinchot affair, anyway?" I heard one young man say to another the other day as he spread open a newspaper in whose headlines Mr. Ballinger and Mr. Pinchot were prominently mentioned.

"Oh, I don't know. Some kind of a fight about some lands somewhere," answered the second young man vaguely. "I haven't been following it at all."

Have you? And did it ever occur to you that it was your duty to follow that and other things like it? Sometimes I hear people-usually young women-say in tones of evident pride, "I almost never read the newspapers." I do not think that is a thing to be at all proud of. I think that every man and woman in this land should read some things in the newspapers whether they read anything else or not.

And by "some things," I mean things like the Ballinger-Pinchot con-I am afraid the two young men whose conversation I overheard are altogether too typical of the American newspaper reading public. Present this public with a large and involved and more or less abstract question like the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, and it balks, skips it for the description of latest things in murderers or the interview with the latest novelty in defaulters, doesn't "try to follow it." By and by this abstract question gets unpleasantly translated into terms of every-day life-the price of timber goes up or the government fostered monopoly brings on a tremendous coal strike, and the public reads all about these concrete things avidly.

If it would only do its reading in the first instance it might not have to in the latter.

How many people cared to read and digest much of the tariff discussions? When the information about the tariff is offered in tabloid form, in outlines or in headlines, so that he who runs may read, they may give it a little attention, but when it is presented in long paragraphs, unbroken by conversation, most of them promptly skip it. But later, when the tariff begins to get in its work, and prices go up and there is a meat boycott, then the shoe begins to pinch, and the public begins to read every word about the concrete result of the abstraction which it ignored so blithely a few months ago.

"An ounce of prevention," &c., as maybe you've heard before, and likewise an ounce of interest in the tariff would have been worth a pound of protest against higher prices; an ounce of interest in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy will be worth a pound of protest at shortage of coal or wood ten years from now.

Are you glad or sorry that you live in a democratic country, where public opinion, whatever some people say, is a great power? If you are glad, suppose you show it by reading in the newspapers the chronicles of the important things of the day such as the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, and making your part of the public opinion a valuable one.

And, if you are sorry, suppose you find a better country. RUTH CAMERON.

Chicago Style Show.

Chicago, March 2 .- Are one-piece dresses still in the mode? Are the spring styles (Upon receipt of this pattern, ordered on coupon clow, place the rough or glazed side of the pattern own on maternal to be stamped, then press bot at-iron on the back or smooth side of the pattern.

Still in the mode? Are the spring styles radical, or will "last year's" do? What are the trimmings? And where oh, where will the radical, or will "last year's" do? What mings? And where, oh, where will the waist line be? For answers to these and innumerable other questions relating to the styles for the coming spring and summer one needs but to attend the wearing apparel, textile, and fashion show, which opened in the Collseum today under the auspices of the National Trade Show Company. Every article of wearing apparel for man, woman, and child is shown at the exhibition.

But more than clothes are shown. The proper way of wearing the articles exhibited is demonstrated in the various booths with live models. Fat women are shown how to dress to make themselves appear thin, and vice versa; the short may learn how to acquire seeming height. and the thin man is told just how much his clothes should be padded and what patterns should be used in their construction to make him an Adonis.

Among the costumes displayed by the living models are numerous French patterns, which are not unlike "nighties" with-well, suffice it to say that they certainly cast in the shade the famous sheath gown. Then there is the bewildering array of spring hats-style straws which show which way the wind of fashion is blowing.

The indications are that flowers are to reign supreme in the millinery world the coming season. Also the large hat is to retain its prestige, though there are new flares and rolls and droops to the brim, and in one novel transformation which attracted attention to-day the back and front of the hat are turned sharply up to give an airship effect.

Apples fried with bacon make a tasty breakfast ish at this season, when the appetite begins to

Sale of entire stock of Waists, suits, gowns, costumes, skirts, furs, neckwear, &c.

PRACTICALLY EVERYTHING HALF PRICE OR LESS.

Mr. Kibbey has just retired from business at 1331 F Street N. W

Most important sale announcement in years. In new, clean, fresh, desirable merchandise, there are almost undreamed-of bargains. THINK! Here just 21 buying days before Easter is offered such a chance. Suits, dresses, costumes, waists, &c., in very latest spring styles. Nothing could be more opportune. Where in Washington is there a woman who does not know the high character of the Kibbey stock. For ourselves we are more than delighted to have the opportunity of offering this stock to our patrons. The real attractiveness of the sale cannot be realized except by coming to the store and examining the goods.

The sale includes not only all of the stock on hand, but the suits, gowns, waists, &c., but recently ordered by Mr. Kibbey for Easter trade and canceled on account of discontinuing business. And so buyers will have the opportunity of selecting from a most complete line of ready-to-wear garments and dress accessories of all kinds in the most advanced spring styles, at a small part of real value—yes, much below cost of production. Only the most up-to-date, high-class merchandise was carried in the Kibbey store. The sale will be the sensation of years—in confirmation of this prediction we refer you to the bulletin below and the merchandise represented by it.
